DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-4,7-9,12 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nolte (3610626)

Claims 1,7,12: Nolte teaches a game board (Fig.4) comprising a plurality of game pieces, a plurality of first game pieces designated by a first type (Kings), a plurality of second game pieces designated by a second type (pawn), a plurality of third type game pieces designated by a third type (bishop), a plurality of forth type game pieces designated by a forth type (rooks), a plurality of fifth game pieces designated by a fifth type (knight), a plurality of sixth game pieces designated by a sixth type (queens),and a seventh game piece (46) wherein a all four queens are different in colors and further the game board comprising outer (peripheral) and inner squares.

The limitation "designated", "associated with" are treated as "rule for playing" and do not further limit the apparatus as claimed.

Claims 2,8: Nolte game board teaching all game piece types to be configured in different (K, Q, R, B, Kt, P, Guard).

Claims 3,9: Nolte game board having grid of squares (Fig.4,10) at least 8x8.

Claim 4: Nolte teaches outer perimeter and inner area of squares (Fig.4).

2. Claims 7-12 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Weiss (4093237).

Claim 7,12: Weiss teaches a game board (Fig.2) comprising a plurality of game pieces, a plurality of first game pieces designated by a first type (Kings), a plurality of second game pieces designated by a second type (pawn), a plurality of third type game pieces designated by a third type (bishop), a plurality of forth type game pieces designated by a forth type (rooks), a plurality of fifth game pieces designated by a fifth type (knight), a plurality of sixth game pieces designated by a sixth type (queens), wherein a all four queens are different in colors and further the game board comprising outer (peripheral) and inner squares.

The limitation "associated with" is treated as "rule for playing" and does not further limit the apparatus as claimed.

Claim 8: Weiss game board teaching all game piece types to be configured in different (K, Q, R, B, Kt, P, Guard).

Claim 9: Weiss game board having grid of squares (Fig.2) at least 8x8.

Claim 10: Weiss teaches a die as a randomizer means (4:38).

Claim 11: Weiss game pieces are capable of being designated as tree types.

Designations are intended use and not further limiting apparatus claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. Claims 5-6 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nolte in view of Weiss.

Claim 5: Nolte teaches all limitations except that it does not provide a randomizer. Weiss teaches providing a randomizer. It is well known in the art area of board games to determine the first player to start the game. There are numerous known methods to determine the first player, including determining using a chance device. Such a method eliminates any conflict and acceptable to every player. In order to start a game in orderly manner, it would have been obvious to modify Nolte to provide a randomizer.

One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested modifying Nolte to provide a randomizer to start the game in an orderly manner.

Claim 6: Nolte game pieces are capable of being designated as tree types.

Designations are intended use and not further limiting apparatus claims.

5. Claims 33,34 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nolte.

Nolte teaches all limitations except that it does not teach first type of game pieces in a specific shape. Examiner takes the position that game piece shapes are configured according to personal preferences that are aesthetically pleasing. The art area of game boards is an amusement art area and in order to attract players it would have been obvious to configure game pieces aesthetically pleasing. One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested configuring specific shapes for game pieces to attract potential players.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-12,33,34 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant may note again that rules for playing a game, method steps and intended use terminology do not further limit a claimed apparatus. For example "designating a game piece" is interpreted as giving a name to a game piece and "associating a game piece" is interpreted as a method step having no apparatus structure.

1. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
